FOREWORD

Ideals of Faith and Honor

As we complete our courses of study at Manor, we become cognizant that Manor has afforded to us intangible values—values that are difficult to obtain in a materialistic world. These intangibles have given us the willingness to strive for Ideals of Faith and Honor. These Ideals are the intrinsic elements needed to guide us through a purposeful life based on principles which enable us to attain our final goal.

1957 Macrinian

We have experienced achievement and have rejoiced. We have experienced failure, and though we were discouraged we still continue with renewed courage and confidence. Guided by the untiring efforts of our administration and faculty, we are directed toward becoming useful members of society.

We are nearing the end of the preparation for the responsible task of entering into the world and remaining steadfast in our principles and ideals. Faith will light our journey, Honor will keep us in the proximity of righteousness—and our object is to be Ideals of both.

*Their Unwavering

DEDICATION

Proudly we dedicate the second MACRIN-
IAN to His Excellency, the Most Reverend Joseph M. Schmondiuk, Auxiliary Bishop of Ukrainian Catholic Exarchy of Philadelphia...

... and to our dear Very Reverend Mother
Zenobia, Mother General of the Sisters of Saint Basil the Great.

Bishop Joseph Schmondiuk and Mother M. Zenobia, Mother General, OSBM, discussing the building plans of Manor College.

Sr. Olga, OSBM, Dean, greets Bishop Joseph Schmondiuk as Fathers Badan and Federovich look on.

Mother Zenobia, OSBM, greeted by Manor College resident students upon her canonical visit from Rome.

LOCALE

Ideally located in the heart of Fox Chase Manor, from which it derives its name, Manor College is situated on the beautiful, spacious grounds of the Motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Basil the Great. The fresh clean country atmosphere pervading the campus lends an air of cheerfulness and vitality to busy, fun-filled school days. Whether blanketed with snow in the middle of winter, or blazing with color amid a multitude of flowers and blossoming trees in the glorious springtime, the campus is always a beautiful sight to the eye of the beholder.

St. Macrina Hall, home of our resident students, is a lovely little building containing classrooms, a lounge, kitchen and campus store. Classes are conducted in the Sacred Heart Building and on the ground floor of St. Macrina Hall.

A favorite spot frequented by Manorettes is the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes where countless visits are made and numerous rosaries said in honor of the Mother of God. It is especially beautiful at night when it is illumined by a large spotlight.

Are Impregnated

Macrina Hall houses classrooms and living quarters.

One of the most frequented spots on Manor's Campus, the Crucifix in the Grotto.

Mother Nature paints a pretty setting for St. Macrina Hall.

in our Hearts.

The Sacred Heart Building, used for lab and business classes.

Behind the Grotto is a natural spring flowing with sparkling clear water. Facing this is a large wooden crucifix bearing the white stone figure of the Savior, standing as a symbol which marks the one thousand anniversary of Christianity in the Ukraine.

Last, but most important, the heart of the college is centered in the Chapel of Christ the King in Saint Basil Academy, where Mass is attended by the students, and wherein dwells the Source and Guide of all school activities.

This is Manor College, our home, the cause of our pride, the place so dear to our hearts.

Chapel of Christ the King shared with Manorettes by students of St. Basil Academy.

You Shall Know the Truth.

Foremost in the minds of the administration and faculty is the harmonious development of the "whole" personality of every young woman student which includes the spiritual, intellectual, physical and social training. It is the administration that sets the tone of the school, the hub on which the wheels of Manor turn. Though the administration is not seen its influence is felt, for this is the pervading spirit that surrounds Manor College.

Policies of the school are set up by the administration and are followed by faculty and student body. It is the administration that fosters the true spirit of Manor College.

STUDENT

Adhering to the Truth

Our activities provide complete spiritual development. All students attend the annual spiritual retreat which is given at the end of the first semester. The students are urged to attend holy Mass and receive Holy Communion daily. Provision is made for seasonal devotion, as, Lenten and May Devotions, weekly Holy Hour, and First Friday Devotions. Manor girls consider the religious life of the college the hub around which Manor life revolves. Visits to the Chapel and to the grotto become customary in the life at Manor.

ACTIVITIES

Our Wills Are Conformed

Mass celebrated during Vistarama Week in Convention Hall.

M. Burbella kneels to kiss the ring of His Excellency, the Most Rev. Archbishop Constantine Bohachevsky, while A. Pendyski kisses the ring of His Excellency, Bishop Joseph McShea at Vistarama. J. McGovern looks on.

A. Pendyski, J. McGovern, M. Zubryd and M. Burbella admire a Vistarama display of Pope Pius XII.

To God's Will.

Father M. Horishny gives his final blessing to K. Alfawicka, T. Sobol, M. Moy and M. D'Aiuto.

Reverend Marianus Horishny, OSBM, reads retreat schedule offered him by M. Byrne.

Retreatants assist at Mass celebrated by Father M. Horishny in the chapel of Christ the King.

We Develop

Eager Manorettes departing on a surprise hayride given by the Freshmen for their Senior sisters.

Many pleasant and varied memories of the many activities we enjoyed at Manor will remain with us throughout our lives. Very special among these memories will be our Prom at the Sandy Run Country Club, dances, mixers, open house, card parties, carol night, afternoon teas, hayrides, class trips, and sports. All of these activities provided many hours of happiness at the time and will provide many more hours of happiness in our book of memories.

A good time was had by all.

Socially,

A. Hoppe, A. Oleksiw and K. Burke dancing with their partners at the Fall Mixer.

Mary Lou Moy, Vice-President of the Freshman class.

Oo la la! B. Shillingford, B. Logan, S. Campbell and R. Carcanague do a French Can-Can for their initiation.

Following Capping Day ceremonies, Freshman S. Campbell takes a piece of cake from her mother while Mrs. Alfred D'Aiuto, Mrs. Sam Moy and K. Burke look on.

Freshman C. Carcanague kneels to receive her academic cap from Mother Euphrosyne, Provincial Superior of the Sisters of St. Basil the Great.

Another treasured leaf to the book of golden memories! On this solemn occasion 24 students were capped, becoming full-fledged members in the family of Manor. Rev. Mother Euphrosyne welcomed every new Manorette with a warm smile, expressing best wishes to each new student on the new road of scholastic success.

Intellectually,

Newly capped Freshmen stand before statue of St. Basil the Great.

As a means of enriching the regular scholastic work of the students, the faculty, student organizations, and the various departments bring to the campus guest speakers who address the student body on varied and timely subjects. Manor College is so situated as to make possible exceptional advantages for the students to attend the theater, opera, symphony concerts, and museums; and to visit the industrial laboratories and great medical centers. Students are encouraged to participate in these field trips in order that they may stimulate their intellectual and cultural life.

In Unity

Student organizations are a part of the educational program as they contribute greatly to the achievement of the objectives of the college. Student participation in extra-curricular functions affords opportunity for the development of initiative, responsibility, and self-direction in the intellectual and spiritual life, and provides wholesome recreation. The most important organization on Manor's campus is the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin. Besides promoting personal spiritual advancement, the Sodality fosters interest in the missions, spreading Catholic literature and propagating the Catholic faith. It is affiliated with the Mariology Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students.

Dramatic ability is given an opportunity for expression in the Curtain Callers. Annual plays are presented for the public in which everyone takes part either as thespians or as stage hands. The Ukrainian Culture Club, whose purpose is to stimulate and encourage interest in the culture of Ukraine, is one of the most important organizations at Manor. Periodically the members dance and sing in Ukrainian for women's organizations.

Foxprints, the school paper is published quarterly and proves to be the main topic of conversation before and after distribution. One of the most anticipated events of the year takes place Senior Week when the Yearbook, Macrinian, is distributed.

Manor is a member of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. NFCCS, was formed to encourage the Catholic college student to participate in the work of the hierarchy of the church.

The Truth

Guided by the principles of their profession, the faculty aims to implant in the student vigorous and well-directed thinking; cooperative and enthusiastic participation in healthful wholesome recreational activities; and a clear perspective of social values, which lays the foundation for constructive membership in family and state, and develops interest of permanent worth. Above all high spiritual ideals are infused into the young Manorette and a deep knowledge of the truths of Faith find expression in Catholic action. The faculty creates the confidence which every student must obtain to persevere in the endeavors which she ventures to undertake.

CLASSES

Shall Set You

Father Matsko explains an event in the Life of Christ to T. Sydoryk, A. Oleksiw, D. Smith and P. A. Thomas.

Where is that book? A familiar scene in St. Thomas More Library finds M. Ternowchek and T. Sobol looking for Roget's Thesaurus.

M. Byrne and J. Furey find Miss Sullivan's lecture on the Pearl Poet very interesting.

"E-nun-ci-ate and speak slow-ly" will always remind M. Cooney, P. K. Thomas and M. O'Neill of the Speech classes spent with Miss Winkler.

Kathy! Not another late slip!

Weaknesses.

"Friday at last!" say M. Byrne, A. Hoppe and D. Smith.

R. Ferrara is sure to pass her exams but B. Shillingford has a course all of her own.

In a winter wonderland at Manor we find M. O'Neill, M. O'Reilly, G. Davis, B. Logan and F. Gorski.

A. Hoppe and P. K. Thomas admire the Filigree trees.

M. Cooney, H. Betz and P. K. Thomas do not mind studying in such pleasant surroundings.

Relaxation

Enjoy the beautiful outdoors while you can, agree M. Byrne, J. Furey, C. Miller, L. Petrik, N. Oakes and K. Burke.

Close Association

One of the most alluring aspects at any college is the residing on campus. This is especially true of Manor mainly because of the "home away from home" atmosphere that prevails throughout the year. Since everyone possesses the spirit of working together as a family, there is a true communication of ideas. This close union enables the girls to form friendships that are enduring. Girls from various backgrounds are brought together beneath one roof to work, study, and actively participate in the many organizations during the scholastic year. The girls have learned to accept the faults of others and are zealous to correct their own imperfections. It is a distinctive advantage to live on campus, for the spiritual, physical, and mental training constantly received aids in the initial step of becoming individuals capable of forming judgment, expressing ideas, arriving at decisions, and firmly adhering to those decisions.

RESIDENT LIFE

Fosters

Selflessness,

B. Shillingford and M. Moy unpack as soon as they arrive at Manor.

B. Shillingford, J. Kiley and A. Mattei taking advantage of the mail box procured at the request of Manor College.

T. Sydoryk, M. Moy and M. Burbella are smiling on their way home again.

M. Burbella and A. Pendyski enjoy a ride on the fenders of Mr. O'Reilly's car.

Enduring Friendships.

Memories of Yesterday

Manor now sees the finished product—the student who for two years has been imbued with Ideals of Faith, Ideals of Honor. It is evident that these two years have not been in vain, for the fruits acquired during these academic years are in evidence as the close of the term approaches. Before the graduates lies the world of joys, sorrows, successes and failures; it is up to these graduates to practice the Ideals of Faith and Honor which has been a part of their days here at Manor. They will depart to bear the responsibilities of mature women—women who will be the nucleus in transmitting patterns of righteous living, women who will be unwavering in their Faith, in their Honor, in their Ideals.
